

November 6-7, 2010

Including your hotel the nights of November 5th-6th

Tour will begin at the Colony Palms Hotel, Saturday morning -- prompt 9AM departure

Contemporary Collectors are spending two glorious days exploring the secret byways of old Palm Springs, celebrating the story of California modernism and the architecture that gave the world a fresh, new style, one that still colors the way our homes look today more than half a century later. Our hotel itself is an icon of that style and the favorite of desert architecture buffs, while our noted guide, Robert Imber, has charmed everyone from the Smithsonian adventurers to the art travelers from the Met. Beginning with the important, yes magnificent, Kaufmann House – Mr. Kaufmann also commissioned Wright’s famous Fallingwater -- by Richard Neutra (rarely accessible and opened by the owner for his own special tour just for us), and Trina Turk’s stunning “Ship of the Desert” -- both restored by the renowned Marmol & Radziner architecture team –we’ll then head for a fabulous tour of Bogie, Sinatra and Gable’s haunts. Our romantic stay at the authentic, vintage Colony Palms Hotel will set the stage for the stunning retrospective: Richard Avedon: Fashion, Stage, and Screen, at the Palm Springs Art Museum, and finally super homes and private collections will spice the amazing events we’ve planned for you!
